HAVE YOU CONSIDERED MY SERVANT, JOB?

Your church staff continues to study this book in our weekly gatherings, which are a Tuesday highlight for all of us.

It is impossible in the realm of the natural to grasp the enormity of this man's despair, and gross lament from his inner depths. I'm afraid we would all be down for the 10 count if any of us were placed in a similar dilemma as Job found himself encased in.

We tend to allow ourselves to be thrown into dire straits if the electricity goes off, and or if we have to live with a water boil advisory. Lord help us!

Job's misery was compounded greatly as God's voice was silent for 38 chapters! Job was the poster child, if you will, for depression and hopelessness. He endured practically all that the powers of darkness could throw toward him. Incredibly this man declares in Chapter 13 that though He kill me, yet will I trust in Him!

Charles Swindoll, writes of Job and his depression. The author shares how this subject was taboo in the early days of the organized church. Further, Swindoll exhorts the church to open it's collective heart to brethren who are suffering in these areas.

Second Timothy 1:7 reads that God has not given us a spirit of fear, but of power, love and of a sound mind. Even those who stand in faith are sometimes in need of additional love, and even professional, spiritual counsel.

Jesus will never leave us. Christ never shamed Job or judged his lament. Jesus understood Job and he understands each of us.

“The Lord is near to the brokenhearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit.” Psalm 34:18

May Jesus be kind and gracious to all your hearts!

Bro. Harold
