Forerunner

November 11, 2021

The wonderful Christian writer/author Chuck Swindoll states that "it takes God to make the heart right". As we all strive to walk out our salvation daily per the Scriptures, there is, or should be a daily dying to one's self.

As the author writes, "greatness or goodness comes in the sweet spirit attitudes of humility and forgiveness toward others. We all know there is nothing inherently good in us except for that which we allow God the Holy Spirit to work in and through us.

We read in Genesis where Joseph could have brought weeping and gnashing of teeth against his brothers for their inhumane treatment of him many years earlier. Joseph chose however in that primetime moment of reunion, to walk in forgiveness and humility. Thus a glorious reunion took place!

As followers of Jesus Christ, may we all allow our Savior and Lord to work in each of our hearts, those same spiritual qualities seen in Joseph, as we move into the blessed seasons of Thanksgiving and the Birth of our Heavenly Father.

May the Father be good to all of you,

Bro. Harold
